BELGRANO & CO has advised the shareholders of Althoff & Lang GbR on the sale to RSK Alenco GmbH

Cologne – April 30, 2021. RSK continues its strategic expansion with the addition of four businesses. The acquisitions see RSK continuing to pursue its strategic aims of expanding its presence in the Asia-Pacific region and in continental Europe, and broadening the breadth and depth of services offered in the UK to deliver end-to-end solutions in-house. The acquisitions are:

- German geotechnical consultants Althoff & Lang GbR
- UK planning and landscaping services provider Stephenson Halliday Ltd
- UK chartered surveyor Waldrams Ltd
- New Zealand risk management company Quality Solutions International Ltd (QSI)

Alan Ryder, RSK Chief Executive Officer and founder says, “RSK has so many exciting things happening, with many more coming through the pipeline. The four businesses we are welcoming into the group today are markedly different in terms of service offering and the sectors in which they operate but they all share our group’s commitment to delivering progress towards the United Nations’ Sustainable Development Goals. These are undoubtedly our greatest business drivers, as now, more than ever before, societies around the world are ready for change.

Ingo Althoff and Michael Lang, Althoff & Lang Managing Directors, add, “We are very happy to be joining the RSK group. In Germany, we have very good chance to grow the business because of high demand for apartments, offices and commercial buildings. We are well known for offering our customers economically optimal solutions. This remains our essential goal.”

Based on its current trajectory and strategy, the rapidly expanding group anticipates that by 2025 it will be delivering an annual turnover of £1 billion and will employ 10,000 people around the world. RSK is actively investing in the development of new businesses and bolt-on acquisitions, as well as equipment and facilities, to provide end-to-end solutions to a wide, international client base.

BELGRANO & CO acted as exclusive sell-side M&A advisor in this transaction.
