BELGRANO & CO has advised Leadec Management Central Europe BV & Co. KG on the acquisition of SRE Schulz & Reichl Elektrobau GmbH

Stuttgart/Roggentin – July 12, 2021. Leadec has taken over SRE Schulz & Reichl Elektrobau GmbH, based in Roggentin, as of July 01, 2021. The company has been successfully planning, installing and servicing electrical systems, data processing technology and building automation for more than 20 years. Leadec is thus further expanding its technical offering across the regions.

“High-performance and safe electrical components in production – this is what the experts at Leadec are skilled at. Thanks to its many years of experience, SRE Schulz & Reichl Elektrobau GmbH is an ideal addition to our company in this field of activity. Furthermore, we can offer our customers in the north even better service thanks to the new site,” says Alexander Bonk, Senior Vice President Operations Germany.

SRE Schulz & Reichl Elektrobau GmbH specializes in electrical installations, medium-voltage switchgear, switchgear, data processing technology, security technology, building automation and lightning protection. The company provides all services from planning and consulting to installation and maintenance from a single source, for example for logistics centers. Thanks to the synergies with Leadec, customers from the industrial sector will in future benefit from the company's expertise and extended range of services for electrical systems.

About Leadec

Industrial enterprises across the globe rely on Leadec's know-how concerning complex processes in smart factories, e-mobility, and sustainable production and infrastructure. Leadec build on nearly 60 years of experience and never stand still. They offer their services from a single source at 300 locations on four continents. Often right on site in the plants and facilities. Leadec's customers experience them as reliable partners, experienced experts, and creative pioneers. Leadec listens, assume responsibility, develop new ideas, and invest a lot in order to become better: in the development of their organization, the expertise of the 18,000 employees, the digitalization of their processes, and our constructive and trusting collaborations.
